CACAA Conference Tournament Semi-Finals 2011

Wow!!! The Eagles came out with one goal in mind -- to be the best team that they can be. This was evident in the way the Eagles showed their aggressiveness on offense, by shooting an overall 66% from inside of the three point line. Also, the Eagles pushed the ball down the court in offensive transition and collected easy points to secure the overall victory. On defense, the Eagles allowed their opponent to score only thirty-seven points, while their opponent shot 27 % overall from inside of the arc. However, there is one way the Eagles did not excel in tonight's game -- boxing-out on the offensive and defensive boards. This is key to winning any championship. This was the first game in which the Eagles were beaten on the boards both offensively and defensively. If the Eagles have any hope of being the best team they can be, then it's urgent that they focus in on this area. The only question remaining is whether or not the Eagles follow through and Finish Strong in the Championship game. Think About It!!!

CACAA Conference Champions 2011

Congratulations goes out to the Eagles for winning the CACAA Conference Championship, which makes it three years in a row. However, this year was quite different than the other two previous years; the Eagles lost two early season games which they had not done prior to this year. Consequently, this adversity made the Eagles more resilient and allowed them to find their own identity and move out of the shadow of those great teams. What a strong finish to a shaky start to a season, but true Champions can reach deep inside and fight beyond their measure.

Now the Eagles must turn their attention to focusing on the bigger prize which is the tournament Championship. By no means will this feat be an easy one, but a challenge that the Eagles must face in order to be the very best team they can be. Still, the Eagles need to reflect back over this season and give God the praise for bringing them through every adverse situation. Without trials there can be no Glory for His name. Think about It!!

The Eagles are starting to believe in their defensive schemes, while achieving their offensive goals. They are playing team ball and making the easy plays in transition. With the Eagles playing at this level the sky is the limit, because the Eagles are seeking not be an average team but a great team. Wow!!! As a result of their effort, the Eagles now reside in first place in the conference with one game remaining. However, the Eagles need to focus in one of their team mottos if they desire to finish like Champions; and that is “Champions are on the same page”. Think about It!!

"Practice Equals Game Time"

The Eagles came out sluggish as their opponent came with the motivation to pull the upset. Consequently, it took the Eagles about three minutes to go before halftime to awake up and play their desperation defense and to be playmakers on offense. Also, the Eagles did not communicate on defense with the intensity that their coaches desire of them.

During the second half the tempo of the game changed in favor of the Eagles as they finished the game with a team record of forty-three team rebounds. Wow!!! Also, the Eagles made 6 out of nine free throws which is an improvement concerning previous games. Still, the Eagles need to go back to the drawing board and realize that slow starts don't win Championships but playing at a consistent level both on offense and defense can assure that happens. That's why the Eagles need to challenge themselves to be overly prepared for their rematch against this same team. The second rematch will be within four days and the Eagle need to focus on one of their team motto's which is "This who they are and this is what they do" "Play defense". Think about It!!

"Practice Equals Game Time"

The Eagles came away with a hard fought victory over a worthy opponent which definitely helped their cause to press toward winning their third consecutive Conference title in a row. However, the Eagles have a lot of areas to improve in before that can happen. During this game, the Eagles did not communicate in their half-court defense as much as they needed to which allowed their opponent to execute their offensive sets without any interruptions. Also, the Eagles lacked in their transition defense which gave their opponent several free baskets.

As a result of this game, the Eagle's really needed to focus even more on being defensive-minded, because defense wins Championships. Also, they need to make their free throws. The Eagles are a step away from being a great team. However, they are settling for just being a good team. True champions never settle for second best. Think about it!!

Wow!!! What an incredible Homecoming game the Eagles played in front of a standing room only crowd. Eagle mania ran wild throughout the night and this team did not disappoint their fans. They put on a demonstration both on offense and defense that would make any coach proud. The Eagles were defensive-minded and offensive player makers, which allow them to control the overall tempo of the game. This was very important since their opponent had beaten them earlier in the season. Also, the Eagle's finished the game strong by knocking down key 3-point shots that put the game out of reach. Yet they missed some key free throws down the stretch of this game.

The Eagles have another great challenge ahead of them in their next opponent, who beat them in an overtime away game. Hopefully, the Eagles will focus even more now because Champions rise to the occasion not just once but every time. The only question that remains for the Eagles is, "Can they rise to the occasion and finish like Champions?" Think about It!!

The Eagles are definitely playing up to their coaches' expectations in this New Year. The Eagles made some great strides in this game by reaching season records with eighteen team assists, forty-one rebounds, twenty-two steals, and a team low of eight turnovers. The Eagles are playing their shake down defense with a determination to minimize their opponent's overall scoring in every phase of the game. Also, the Eagles are communicating more on the defensive end of the floor, which means double trouble for their opponents and a peace mind for their coaches. The Eagles are playing superb on offense and are running their fast-breaks to perfection, which means they trust their teammates to finish on every play.

As a result of unselfish play, the Eagles are playing with a high basketball I-Q which allows them to live up to one of their team mottos, "Champions are on the same page". The Eagles face their greatest challenge in their next opponent who is in sole possession of first place in the conference. The only question that remains for the Eagles is, "Do they see themselves as Champions?" Think about It!!

Wow!!! The Eagles are starting to use their high basketball I-Q both on offense and defense. The Eagles are being playmakers on offense and defensive minded on defense. If the Eagles can sustain this type of play for the remainder of the season, the sky is the limit. The Eagles are playing their new style of defense and on offense they are running their fastbreaks to perfection, which allows them to control the tempo of the game.

The Eagles' intensity shows they are excited about this New Year and the possibilities of doing a better job of finishing strong in the remaining games. As a result of their refocusing, the Eagles can become a great team. Yet, they need to remember that great teams never look back but press and reach for higher goals to achieve the impossible. “Practice Equals Game Time”

The Eagles have landed with their desperation defense leading the overall charge. This was evident in their 18 steals and 31 rebounds. Also, the Eagles offense was in full force with a season high of 18 assists. While the Eagles were definitely being offensive player makers, on the defensive end of the floor they were being defensive stoppers. This is what their coaches have been preaching since day one -- defense is the best offense that any team can play. However, the Eagles just have not been dedicated to that end of the floor which resulted in two losses prior to this game.

Hopefully, the Eagles have got their minds made up about the fact that winning comes when they show discipline on defense and execute on offense. The Eagle need to move forward knowing that any team is vulnerable when its members think more highly of themselves than they should, instead of being humble before God and giving Him all of the praise. Think about It!!

12/2/10

Team Record 1-2 "Practice Equals Game Time"

The Eagles played well enough to win this hard fought battle but their opponent wanted the game more than the Eagles. With only five seconds left to go in regulation the Eagles were tied with their best free throw shooter on the line poised to make two free throws which would put the game in their favor. However, the Eagles forgot one important thing that would ensure the victory. They would need to pick up their opponent full court man-to-man and not allow them to get a good shot off in the time left. Well, the Eagles' best free throw shooter made both of his shots but the Eagles forgot about playing their "desperation defense" which allowed their opponent to dribble and pass the ball down the court and make the tying shot which put the game into overtime. In overtime, the Eagles lost to an opponent that they had beaten for the past two years.

Now, the Eagles have a slim chance at being the Conference Champions due to their lack of urgency, both on offense and defense. Hopefully, this will be a wakeup call for them because the Eagles have never been in this uncharted territory before. Therefore, they really need to grasp hold to one of their team mottos, "go as hard as they can for as long as they can" (both on offense and defense). Also, it would do this team well to communicate on defense, because at this point they are not playing the type of defense that their coaches demand of them -- desperation defense. Think about It!!

Team Record 1-1 "Practice Equals Game Time"

The Eagles' win streak is now over after being defeated by an opponent that the Eagles outmatched talent-wise, yet were able to earn a win due to the Eagle's poor display of defensive finesse and lack of offensive execution. The Eagles showed no desperation defense throughout the entire game, which allowed one player from the opponent's team to have a game high of thirty points. It is unacceptable by any coach's standard, when one player from an opposing team dominates five supposedly defensive-minded ball players. The Eagles need to get back in step immediately! One of their team mottos is in question: this is who we are and this is what we do -- "Play defense". The Eagles need to understand that offensive plays don't win ball games, but players who are defensive-minded win Championships. If the Eagles reflect back over the past two years & consider how they have won two straight Conference and Tournament Championships the answer would stare them right in their faces: having "self discipline" both on offense and defense.

If the Eagles don't get on the same page like Champions must do, they may suffer their second loss in a row against another worthy and highly motivated opponent, Carolina Christian. However, if the Eagles give God the praise for this loss and become defensive-minded like their coaches have been preaching since day one, another Championship is very possible. Think About It!

The Eagles 81 vs. Charlotte United 13

11/19/10

Team Record 1-0 "Practice Equals Game Time"

Wow!!! The Eagles came out showing their stifling desperation defense. This caused their opponent to reevaluate their game plan. The Eagles caused havoc both on offense and defense which was evident in their sixteen steals and forty-two rebounds and twenty-one team assists. This gave the Eagle's the opportunity to play all of their players and rest their starters during the fourth period. Hopefully, the Eagles won't think that every game will be like this one, because if they do they may be in for a rude awakening and suffer their second defeat in three years.

Even given this win, the Eagles have several areas that need to be addressed if they are to have a successful season. First, they need to communicate in their man-to-man defense and play with more passion on defense. Remember, championships are made from the defensive end of the floor and not by just making baskets. Secondly, the Eagles need to pay attention to executing their offensive plays and not depending on individual players to make "it happen". Finally, the Eagles need to focus on "Finishing Strong" by making free throws, running fast breaks, and working as a team. Think about It!!
